

Two-day International Conference

Urban Informality: Inclusive Policy, Planning & Design

8-9 March 2026 (Sunday and Monday),

Department of Architecture and Planning, IIT Roorkee &

AMRUT Centre of Urban Planning for Capacity Building in collaboration with Scheme for Promotion of Academic and Research Collaboration (SPARC)

Conference Outline:

Rapid urbanization in the Global South has intensified the proliferation of informal settlements, making housing informality one of the most critical challenges confronting contemporary cities. Cities continue to be shaped by diverse forms of urban informality arising from historical, legal, socio-economic, and political processes. While national and sub-national housing policies increasingly seek to promote inclusive and affordable urban development, their implementation reveals varied outcomes across contexts.

In India, post-liberalization revealed the need for inclusion of economic and cultural aspects along with scheme convergence and holistic approach. Contemporary discourse on inclusion of such aspects for overall development of informal housing helps in mainstreaming informality in the overall development of city. Therefore, such discourse requires continuous deliberation and brainstorming.

This conference provides an interdisciplinary platform to critically examine informal settlements, housing policies, and adaptive strategies adopted by communities and institutions. Bringing together scholars, practitioners, and policymakers from India and abroad, the conference aims to achieve cross-learning, and context-specific cases towards achieving a slum free city.
